Code 7 Foundation Listening 1

After completion of these two courses, students are expected to:

- 1) learn to recognise and understand spoken material that they could read with ease, if it were written out for them,
- 2) learn to recognise and understand English spoken at a normal rate, which varies from speaker to speaker,
3. attain some familiarity with varieties of standard English, as spoken by native and fluent non-native speakers from various geographic backgrounds.

Foundation Listening is for first-year students at Thai universities and anyone who has studied English at school and who wants or needs to improve his ability to listen to natural English speech with ease and understanding.
